

Warning Signs & What to Look for: Anxiety and Depression in Childhood With Joan Luby, M.D.

Joan Luby, M.D.

Samuel and Mae S. Ludwig
Professor of Psychiatry (Child)

Director and Founder,
Early Emotional Development Program

Washington University School of Medicine in St. Louis

Thursday, December 1, 2022,
7:00PM – 7:30PM EST

Teachers, school counselors and other educational professionals are on the front line of dealing with kids with mental health issues and can often be among some of the first people to see that a child is struggling.

Enhancing the potential for early intervention is important and because educational professionals have relationships with students and their families, they are often the people who guide students and their families to resources. As educational professionals learn more about mental health issues, their ability to make appropriate referrals for evaluation will improve for students and their families.

This new series is hosted by Jeffrey Borenstein, M.D., President & CEO of the Brain & Behavior Research Foundation and host of the public television series Healthy Minds.

Registration will be required for this FREE event.

The program will be available on the BBRF website after December 1st for anyone who is unable to attend.

More Info Coming Soon.

